

Monday: Mark 5:21-43. Remember: Jesus has power over sickness and over death itself. All that Jesus said and did supported His claim to be the Son of God, as Mark announced at the start of his gospel (Mark 1:1). Pray today for someone you know who is need of healing.

Tuesday: Matthew 10:1-10. Think: In Jesus' day, Jewish leaders were trained, by living with their master, and learned by observing, and then imitating, him. In this passage the disciples have completed their basic training and are sent out to make more disciples. Who are you discipling, and what should you pray for them today as their next growth step?

Wednesday: Mark 6:14-29. Consider: Herod Antipas cared more about the opinions of those around him than doing the right thing. We must follow the example of John the Baptist instead of trying to please those who are watching. Ultimately only God's opinion matters, and His will must be our guide.

Thursday: John 6:1-15. Reflect: Jesus Christ is the true Bread. Jesus brings nourishment and support to our spiritual life. Our bodies could live better without food than our souls without Christ. How well prepared are you to distribute this Bread to other hungry souls through sharing your faith?

Friday: Matthew 14:22-36. Challenge: The Bible says that it's right to ask God for opportunities (Matthew 7:7). Do you think you are more like Peter, asking God to use you, or more like the other disciples, who sat watching to see what would happen?

Monday: Mark 5:21-43. Remember: Jesus has power over sickness and over death itself. All that Jesus said and did supported His claim to be the Son of God, as Mark announced at the start of his gospel (Mark 1:1). Pray today for someone you know who is need of healing.

Tuesday: Matthew 10:1-10. Think: In Jesus' day, Jewish leaders were trained, by living with their master, and learned by observing, and then imitating, him. In this passage the disciples have completed their basic training and are sent out to make more disciples. Who are you discipling, and what should you pray for them today as their next growth step?

Wednesday: Mark 6:14-29. Consider: Herod Antipas cared more about the opinions of those around him than doing the right thing. We must follow the example of John the Baptist instead of trying to please those who are watching. Ultimately only God's opinion matters, and His will must be our guide.

Thursday: John 6:1-15. Reflect: Jesus Christ is the true Bread. Jesus brings nourishment and support to our spiritual life. Our bodies could live better without food than our souls without Christ. How well prepared are you to distribute this Bread to other hungry souls through sharing your faith?

Friday: Matthew 14:22-36. Challenge: The Bible says that it's right to ask God for opportunities (Matthew 7:7). Do you think you are more like Peter, asking God to use you, or more like the other disciples, who sat watching to see what would happen?

Monday: Mark 5:21-43. Remember: Jesus has power over sickness and over death itself. All that Jesus said and did supported His claim to be the Son of God, as Mark announced at the start of his gospel (Mark 1:1). Pray today for someone you know who is need of healing.

Tuesday: Matthew 10:1-10. Think: In Jesus' day, Jewish leaders were trained, by living with their master, and learned by observing, and then imitating, him. In this passage the disciples have completed their basic training and are sent out to make more disciples. Who are you discipling, and what should you pray for them today as their next growth step?

Wednesday: Mark 6:14-29. Consider: Herod Antipas cared more about the opinions of those around him than doing the right thing. We must follow the example of John the Baptist instead of trying to please those who are watching. Ultimately only God's opinion matters, and His will must be our guide.

Thursday: John 6:1-15. Reflect: Jesus Christ is the true Bread. Jesus brings nourishment and support to our spiritual life. Our bodies could live better without food than our souls without Christ. How well prepared are you to distribute this Bread to other hungry souls through sharing your faith?

Friday: Matthew 14:22-36. Challenge: The Bible says that it's right to ask God for opportunities (Matthew 7:7). Do you think you are more like Peter, asking God to use you, or more like the other disciples, who sat watching to see what would happen?

Monday: Mark 5:21-43. Remember: Jesus has power over sickness and over death itself. All that Jesus said and did supported His claim to be the Son of God, as Mark announced at the start of his gospel (Mark 1:1). Pray today for someone you know who is need of healing.

Tuesday: Matthew 10:1-10. Think: In Jesus' day, Jewish leaders were trained, by living with their master, and learned by observing, and then imitating, him. In this passage the disciples have completed their basic training and are sent out to make more disciples. Who are you discipling, and what should you pray for them today as their next growth step?

Wednesday: Mark 6:14-29. Consider: Herod Antipas cared more about the opinions of those around him than doing the right thing. We must follow the example of John the Baptist instead of trying to please those who are watching. Ultimately only God's opinion matters, and His will must be our guide.

Thursday: John 6:1-15. Reflect: Jesus Christ is the true Bread. Jesus brings nourishment and support to our spiritual life. Our bodies could live better without food than our souls without Christ. How well prepared are you to distribute this Bread to other hungry souls through sharing your faith?

Friday: Matthew 14:22-36. Challenge: The Bible says that it's right to ask God for opportunities (Matthew 7:7). Do you think you are more like Peter, asking God to use you, or more like the other disciples, who sat watching to see what would happen?

