

Monday: Revelation 13:1-18. Consider: The vivid imagery of Revelation has caused many to speculate about the 2 beasts and the number 666. One thing is clear from verse 8. Those who are saved worship the Lamb instead of the beast and will not be led astray by such things.

Tuesday: Revelation 14:1-13. Reflect: Despite the turmoil going on in the world, the multitude of God's people, symbolised by the 144,000, are there in heaven with Jesus singing a new song before his throne (v3). Our destiny is intimately bound up with His. Where He is, we will one day be.

Wednesday: Revelation 19:11 - 20:10. Worship: Jesus is pictured as the rider on the white horse, who both brings salvation and exercises judgement. Find a phrase that describes Jesus in 19:11-16 and use it as your response in worship and praise today.

Thursday: Revelation 20:11 - 21:8. Pray: Ultimately, God's children will live on a new earth, for the old earth will be destroyed, and heaven will descend to earth. But alongside Heaven's joy is the picture of Hell as "a lake of burning sulphur". Pray for your non-Christian friends that they will not have to face the "second death".

Friday: Revelation 22:1-21. The final Chapter: Revelation and the New Testament close with a picture of heaven. Despite its symbolism, it is quite clear in presenting truth. What strikes you today from this passage? How will you apply it? Thank God for this revelation of His truth!

Monday: Revelation 13:1-18. Consider: The vivid imagery of Revelation has caused many to speculate about the 2 beasts and the number 666. One thing is clear from verse 8. Those who are saved worship the Lamb instead of the beast and will not be led astray by such things.

Tuesday: Revelation 14:1-13. Reflect: Despite the turmoil going on in the world, the multitude of God's people, symbolised by the 144,000, are there in heaven with Jesus singing a new song before his throne (v3). Our destiny is intimately bound up with His. Where He is, we will one day be.

Wednesday: Revelation 19:11 - 20:10. Worship: Jesus is pictured as the rider on the white horse, who both brings salvation and exercises judgement. Find a phrase that describes Jesus in 19:11-16 and use it as your response in worship and praise today.

Thursday: Revelation 20:11 - 21:8. Pray: Ultimately, God's children will live on a new earth, for the old earth will be destroyed, and heaven will descend to earth. But alongside Heaven's joy is the picture of Hell as "a lake of burning sulphur". Pray for your non-Christian friends that they will not have to face the "second death".

Friday: Revelation 22:1-21. The final Chapter: Revelation and the New Testament close with a picture of heaven. Despite its symbolism, it is quite clear in presenting truth. What strikes you today from this passage? How will you apply it? Thank God for this revelation of His truth!

Monday: Revelation 13:1-18. Consider: The vivid imagery of Revelation has caused many to speculate about the 2 beasts and the number 666. One thing is clear from verse 8. Those who are saved worship the Lamb instead of the beast and will not be led astray by such things.

Tuesday: Revelation 14:1-13. Reflect: Despite the turmoil going on in the world, the multitude of God's people, symbolised by the 144,000, are there in heaven with Jesus singing a new song before his throne (v3). Our destiny is intimately bound up with His. Where He is, we will one day be.

Wednesday: Revelation 19:11 - 20:10. Worship: Jesus is pictured as the rider on the white horse, who both brings salvation and exercises judgement. Find a phrase that describes Jesus in 19:11-16 and use it as your response in worship and praise today.

Thursday: Revelation 20:11 - 21:8. Pray: Ultimately, God's children will live on a new earth, for the old earth will be destroyed, and heaven will descend to earth. But alongside Heaven's joy is the picture of Hell as "a lake of burning sulphur". Pray for your non-Christian friends that they will not have to face the "second death".

Friday: Revelation 22:1-21. The final Chapter: Revelation and the New Testament close with a picture of heaven. Despite its symbolism, it is quite clear in presenting truth. What strikes you today from this passage? How will you apply it? Thank God for this revelation of His truth!

Monday: Revelation 13:1-18. Consider: The vivid imagery of Revelation has caused many to speculate about the 2 beasts and the number 666. One thing is clear from verse 8. Those who are saved worship the Lamb instead of the beast and will not be led astray by such things.

Tuesday: Revelation 14:1-13. Reflect: Despite the turmoil going on in the world, the multitude of God's people, symbolised by the 144,000, are there in heaven with Jesus singing a new song before his throne (v3). Our destiny is intimately bound up with His. Where He is, we will one day be.

Wednesday: Revelation 19:11 - 20:10. Worship: Jesus is pictured as the rider on the white horse, who both brings salvation and exercises judgement. Find a phrase that describes Jesus in 19:11-16 and use it as your response in worship and praise today.

Thursday: Revelation 20:11 - 21:8. Pray: Ultimately, God's children will live on a new earth, for the old earth will be destroyed, and heaven will descend to earth. But alongside Heaven's joy is the picture of Hell as "a lake of burning sulphur". Pray for your non-Christian friends that they will not have to face the "second death".

Friday: Revelation 22:1-21. The final Chapter: Revelation and the New Testament close with a picture of heaven. Despite its symbolism, it is quite clear in presenting truth. What strikes you today from this passage? How will you apply it? Thank God for this revelation of His truth!

