Week 93

Monday: 1 Samuel 18:1-30. Throughout these verses we see that whatever harm or trap Saul tried to set for David, the Lord was with him and blessed his life. Today, trust in God that whatever man might try to do, God will give you success as you keep your heart attitude right.

Tuesday: 1 Samuel 19:1-24. Spiritual maturity is about a consistent mental, emotional and spiritual life. Saul shows the opposite! Sometimes calm and reasonable, other times erratic and open to the devil's attacks, despite appearing spiritual on other occasions. Pray for your own maturity and others you know of who are not as stable as they sometimes appear.

Wednesday: 1 Samuel 20:1-42. Jonathan remained a friend to David despite his father's anger at David. Who are your closest friends? Pray for them. How can you show your appreciation to one of them today?

Thursday: 1 Samuel 21:1-15. As Aaron and his sons ate the consecrated showbread in God's house, they came and ate as a friend and guest of the Lord. The showbread was always fresh. How do you keep your time with God fresh so that your relationship with him does not become stale?

Friday: 1 Samuel 22:1-23. Ahimelech was killed by Saul for his support of David. David offers refuge to Abiathar his son, with an army made up of "misfits"! Look at verse 2 to see who was in it. Pray that our Church "army" can be as effective with similar people!

Weekend: 1 Samuel 23:1-29. Jonathan is a great friend to David and comes alongside him to help him "find strength in God" (vv16-17). He encouraged faith, dispelled fear, and committed himself to give future support. Who will you be a friend to today?
